TALK IT OVER

Where and how do you see evidence in people/culture that we are wired for God? Where and how do you see evidence that most people are disconnected from God, yet yearning for Him? In your own life, when can you remember seasons of feeling disconnected from God? What would you say was the primary cause? How did you reconnect? How difficult is it for you to be truly honest and transparent with God? Pride breaks connection with God; humility through confession restores it. What gets in the way of confession for you? How could your prayer life be more fervent and intentional? How could you begin taking active responsibility for things for which you are praying? How would you describe spiritual consistency? Who do you know who seems to demonstrate spiritual consistency? Do you think the people who know you best would say you live with an eternal focus? Why or why not? How are you currently involved in a helpful community? How does it strengthen your connection with God?
