TALK IT OVER

Do you believe that a struggle with self-worth and value comes from within you or from others? Explain and discuss. Who has encouraged your value? How have they done that? How did Jesus show His value for women despite the tendency of humankind since sin entered the Garden to devalue women? What is a Jesus-follower's opportunity and responsibility for the undervalued? What is a person's responsibility for respecting their own value? How can a man show value to the women in his life? How would you advise a woman who has no man who respects and values her appropriately to value herself? If you are a mother, how can you value yourself? If your mother is living, what will you do to show her love and respect today? How can you make showing value to others a deeper, more core part of your life?
